25. Read the following passage and answer the given questions in your own words.

We stand precariously and challengingly on the "razor's edge of destiny". We are now at the mercy of atom bombs and alike objects which would destroy us completely if we fail to control them wisely. And wisdom in this crisis means sensitiveness to the basic values of life; it means a vivid realization that we are living in one world where we must either swim together or sink together. We cannot afford to tamper with man's single minded loyalty to peace and international understanding. Anyone who does it is a traitor not only to man's past and present, but also to his future because he is mortgaging his destiny of unborn generations.

a) Why does the author feel that we are now at "razor's edge of destiny"?

b) Complete the following sentence.

Tomorrow will be dying.

The glorious lamp of heaven, the sun,
The higher he is a getting
The sooner will his race be run,

And nearer he's to setting

That age is best which is the first,
When youth and blood are warmer,
But being spent, the worse and wast
Time will succeed the former.

Then be not coy, but use your time
And while ye may, go marry
For hailing, lost but once you are prime,
You may forever tarry.
